

September 10, 2005

The logo for The Sun Chronicle website, featuring the text "The SUN CHRONICLE.COM" in a stylized font with "SUN CHRONICLE" in orange and "The" and ".COM" in white. Below the logo is a dark blue rectangular bar containing the word "HOME" in white capital letters, underlined.

NA couple fostering dog

North Attleboro--They've never met their new friend, but the hearts and the house of one North Attleboro couple are wide open.

“ Her name is Krystal and she is a 6-month-old yellow lab,” said Kerry Hutchins who, with husband, Tim, an engineer in Marlboro, are adopting a dog displaced by Hurricane Katrina. “ We talked about fostering before and if we're ever going to do it, this is the time because they really need it -- people to foster these dogs,” Hutchins said.

Krystal has been transported with other Labradors from the chaos in the south to a shelter in Connecticut by a group called Labs4Rescue.

For complete story, see Saturday's Sun Chronicle